CEFR Skill Descriptors

Listening

A0	Not enough to allow for any meaningful inferences about the candidate's ability.
A1	Can follow speech which is very slow and carefully articulated, with long pauses for them to assimilate meaning.
A2	Can understand enough to be able to meet needs of a concrete type provided speech is clearly and slowly articulated.
B1	Can understand straightforward factual information about common everyday or job related topics, identifying both general messages and specific details, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.

Reading

A0	Not enough to allow for any meaningful inferences about the candidate's ability.
A1	Can understand very short, simple texts a single phrase at a time, picking up familiar names, words and basic phrases and rereading as required.
A2	Can understand short, simple texts on familiar matters of a concrete type which consist of high frequency everyday or job-related language.
B1	Can read straightforward factual texts on subjects related to their field and interest with a satisfactory level of comprehension.

Speaking

A0	Not enough to allow for any meaningful inferences about the candidate's ability.
A1	Can produce simple descriptions on mainly personal topics.
A2	Can give a simple description or presentation of people, living or working conditions, daily routines likes/dislikes, etc. as a short series of simple phrases and sentences linked into a list.
B1	Can reasonably fluently sustain a straightforward description of one of a variety of subjects within their field of interest, presenting it as a linear sequence of points.

Writing

A0	Not enough to allow for any meaningful inferences about the candidate's ability.
A1	Can write simple isolated phrases and sentences.
A2	Can write a series of simple phrases and sentences linked with simple connectors like 'and', 'but' and 'because'.
B1	Can write straightforward connected texts on a range of familiar subjects within their field of interest, by linking a series of shorter discrete elements into a linear sequence.
